Pimples Source of Great Danger

May be Means of Absorbing Disease Germs in Most Unexpected Manner.

Make Your Blood Pure and Immune With S. S.

In thousands of instances the most vicious types of blood troubles have been traced to common pimples, and because germs in public places, and the apparently insignificant pimple has been the cause. It spreads with astonishing rapidity, infecting the entire system in a few days.

It is fortunate, however, that there is a remedy to cope quickly and thoroughly with the trouble, and thanks to the discovery of its properties the famous S. S. may now be had at most any drug store in the civilized world.

This preparation stands alone as a blood purifier. It is a true reminiscence in its composition, since it accomplishes all that was ever claimed for mercury, iodides, arsenic, and other destructive substances, and yet it is about a highly vegetable product.

It contains one ingredient which serves the active purpose of stimulating each tiny cellular part of the tissue, thus giving the body the regeneration of its own essential nutrient. There are more cases of articular rheumatism, rheumatism, asthma, paralysis, neuritis, and similar diseases removed from the system than any other than those that are aware of. These facts are brought out in a highly interesting book compiled by the medical editor of the Atlanta Journal, Dr. George H. Biggs, Atlanta, Ga. It is mailed free, together with special information to all who write describing their symptoms.

REPUBLICANS CARRY CITY FOR MAJORITY OF TICKET

D. H. Boatright Elected Mayor Over D. K. B. Sellers by Plurality of One Hundred and Forty-Three Votes

THOMAS HUGHES FILES UP RECORD BREAKING VOTE

Two Republican and Two Democratic Aldermen Elected Leaving Democrats Majority of One in City Council

Mayor H. D. Boatright
Clerk Thomas Hughes
Treasurer Al. W. Goodrich

Aldermen

First Ward—Geo. B. Hammond, (Rep.), Geo. C. Scheer,

Second Ward—C. G. Gibson, (Rep.), J. A. Skinner, (Dem.)

Third Ward—S. B. Coen, (Dem.), S. S. Gilbert, (Dem.)

Fourth Ward—Ivan Grunsfeld, (Rep.), R. L. Hust, (Dem.)

The above will be the active government for the next two years.

In yesterday's election H. D. Boatright was elected mayor, over D. K. B. Sellers, the Democratic candidate, by a plurality of 143 votes.

Mr. Boatright carried the First and Second wards, the latter by a plurality of 149, the former by a plurality of 58. Mayor Sellers carried the Third ward by 30 votes and the Fourth ward by 34 votes. The election result was a surprise to both sides, so far as the mayor was concerned. The Republicans, aided by the disaffected Democrats in the two Highland wards, had expected to carry both these wards by much larger majorities than were received by the majority candidate. As it was, those majorities were sufficient to elect their candidate. The Democratic and supporters of Mayor Sellers had expected to carry the Fourth ward for him by a very large majority and when the Fourth ward's first report came in showing a majority of 108 for the Republican candidate for Mr. Sellers' election was abandoned. The friends of the mayor and the Democratic organization made a great and persistent fight for his election during the campaign and at the polls. They had to meet a campaign of exceptional bitterness centered upon the personality of the mayor and into which issues were drawn which had no proper or reasonable place in the campaign. Added to this was a considerable difference among Democrats who disapproved of the mayor's selection of city appointive officers, and who voted the Republican ticket on that account. Other issues were given by them as their reasons for opposing the mayor, but his policy with regard to independence in choosing his appointive officers is the true reason for the fight on him within the party. The handicap was too great to be overcome, although the mayor led his ticket in every ward by substantial majorities.

Tom Hughes Sets New Record.

Thomas Hughes, Republican, in his election by a plurality of 775 votes over his Democratic opponent, set a new majority record in an Albuquerque city election. Mr. Hughes drew votes from all parties and all factions due to his lifelong residence here and his wide personal acquaintance.

Al. W. Goodrich, Republican, of the Simon Stern Clothing company, was elected city treasurer by 266 plurality.

Council Remains Democratic.

The Republican victory yesterday was by no means complete. The Democrats still have a majority of one in the city council and will still be in a position to control that body on political issues, should any such issues unfortunately be injected into the city government during the next two years. With three Democratic hold-over members, Meers, Coen, Scheer and Skinner, the Democrats yesterday added two of their candidates: C. G. Gilbert, a grocer, from the Third ward, who defeated T. H. Hansen by 52 votes, and R. L. Hust, practicing physician, who defeated W. H. Barney, Republican, by 18 votes.

The Republicans elected Geo. B. Hammond in the First ward by 74 votes and C. G. Gibson in the Second by 122 votes.

Although the vest pocket vote was practically universal, there were fewer scratches tickets than had been expected, and the victory of Mr. Boatright was conceded early in the evening. The result was known at 8 o'clock, but the severe storm prevented the victorious party from attempting any outdoor celebration. There was handshaking at the Republican headquarters and it is likely that a ratification meeting will be arranged for tonight or tomorrow.

Jesus Romero Elects Boatright.

In addition to other forces working against the Democratic city ticket yesterday, the personal fight on Mayor Sellers, and the split in the Democratic party, there was another factor which worked for the Republican ticket and which probably can be credited with enough influence to have elected Mr. Boatright. This was the activity in the campaign of Jesus Romero, sheriff and county Republican boss. Mr. Romero used every effort at his command for the suscess of the Republican ticket and undoubtedly turned many votes to Mr. Boatright that without his participation in the campaign, would have gone to Mayor Sellers.

And Many Are the Voices of Albionque People.

Thirty thousand voices—what a grand chorus! And that's the number of American men and women who are publicly praising Doan's Kidney Pills for relief from backache, kidney and bladder ills. They say it is friends. They tell it in the home papers. Albionque people are in this chorus. Here's an Albuquerque case.

J. J. Ryan, 225 N. Broadway, Albuquerque, N. M., says: "I had no trouble for some time that my kidneys weren't acting as they should. The jar of riding on a wagon and heavy lifting weakened them. I had sharp twinges in the small of my back. My head ached and I had dizzy spells. I took Doan's Kidney Pills after a neighbor had given a public statement, telling how he had cured him of kidney complaint. One box was all I needed for a permanent cure."

ANOTHER BOND OF INTERNATIONAL GOOD WILL

Proposed to Erect Monument to Admiral Paul de Grasse who Made Possible Victory Over Lord Cornwallis.

Washington April 8.—Another bond of international good will between the United States and France is about to take form in the project for a monument to Admiral Francois Joseph Paul de Grasse, commander of the French fleet whose bold and skillful Washington's final victory over Lord Cornwallis, thus ending the revolutionary war. The movement has been started by the sons of the revolution, and definite plans for securing the monument will be made at the triennial convention of the organization which begins here tomorrow.

Admiral de Grasse, it has been pointed out by Ambassador Jusserand, of France, is the only foreign commander who helped this country in the revolution to whom no memorial has been erected. In speaking of him recently, the ambassador declared that "nobody risked so much or did so much unaided for the United States as did de Grasse." The monument most likely will be erected here in Lafayette square, facing the White House, although Yorktown, Va., the scene of the final battle, also has been suggested. Statues stand here to Lafayette and Rochambeau, of France; von Steuben, of Germany; Kosciusko and Pulaski, Polish officers.

A committee appointed to take up the matter is prepared to report to the convention. General James Morris, of this city, chairman of the committee, stated in his report that "what is proposed is distinctively a naval monument." The memorial, he adds, "should be a tribute to the French fleet, and should symbolize an sea power in relation to shore operations and include a central figure of Admiral de Grasse, the others being Rochambeau, Count d'E斯塔ing and Brigadier General du Portail, this constitutes no reason why there should not be a statue to de Grasse himself, especially as the Lafayette statue does not show who the secondary figures are, simply stating that it is to Lafayette and his compatriots. There is, moreover, a separate statue to Rochambeau, in Lafayette square.

The proposition has been presented to the navy league of the United States, and that organization, it is understood, stands ready to cooperate in raising funds for the monument, which it is estimated will cost $50,000.

The Daughters of the American Revolution also will be invited to have a share in honoring the revolutionary hero. Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, has expressed himself enthusiastically in favor of the project.

Had it not been for the successful sea cooperation of Admiral de Grasse who bottled up the Chesapeake bay in August, 1781, and prevented the British sea forces from coming up and joining Lord Cornwallis, it is doubtful historians hold whether Washington and his French land troops would have been able to compel the
